

The sassy and stylish handmade sandals offered by this one-of-a-kind retailer nearly qualify as jewelry for your feet. Based on the Mediterranean island of Capri, these sandals consist of flat, Italian leather soles and are inlaid with costume jewelry. But it's the incredible-looking designs that make them work, and they are so beautiful you won't even blanch when you see the high in-Euro price tags. You might flinch a little bit when you see the shipping charges, but as you will not find these anywhere else, it's worth it to have this precious footwear.
